REPORT OF SUPT. OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of Newmarket:

A labor leader recently stated that the educators of America are our country's first line of defense. Our entire teaching staff, elementary and secondary, gave a demonstration of ready response to patriotic duty when the members reported at the Town Hall and remained on duty all day and evening October 16, 1940, assisting in registration for the Selective Service Draft. Headmaster McCafrey was in charge of this group. In every grade, current events are taken up in ways suited to the various ages, in order that young citizens may be intelligent on affairs of the day and may be led to habits of rational judgment in regard to sources of public information. Special materials on the problems of democracy as they affect the home, the community, the government, and international relations are also adapted for use throughout the schools. Freedom comes from the knowledge of truth, while order and justice spring from social discipline and individual self-control. Both of these ideals are fundamental in the activities of the schools. Last May, Mr. William T. Maguire of Lynn, Mass., one of the few surviving Spanish-American War veterans from Newmarket, presented to the High School a set of original patriotic verses neatly engrossed and artistically framed, dealing with the theme of respect for the flag. This poem was used at the school Memorial Day assembly.

Last year 439 different pupils were registered in Newmarket public schools. Of those not previously registered elsewhere in the state, 223 were boys and 205 were girls. The schools were in session an average of 353 half-days, with an aggregate attendance of 134, 969. The enrollment by grades ranged from 22 in the fourth grade to 58 in the ninth grade. Three hundred and eighty-nine pupils were promoted and five retained. Eleven pupils dropped out during the year. The average age September 1st of all pupils ranged from six years and six months in Grade I to 17 years and 3 months in Grade XII. The average attendance was 382.16, average absence 14.50 and per cent of attendance 96.34. The per cent of attendance in both junior and senior high schools, however, was over 98 per cent, a record maintained for 17 and 12 consecutive years, respectively. There were 154 cases of tardiness, but 69 pupils were neither absent nor tardy. The number of pupils transported at district expense averaged 105. Teachers' credentials included 12 certificates and three licenses. School Board meetings numbered 23. There were 525 visits to schools by the Superintendent.

The per pupil cost of public elementary schools in Newmarket was $69.99 last year, compared with $81.07 for the median of the state. Corresponding figures for the high school were $70.41 for Newmarket and 104.29 for New Hampshire as a whole. The per pupil cost of high school instruction items in 1939-40 for New Hampshire averaged $79.56, whereas in Newmarket it was $46.02, the lowest in the state. The reasons for this include (1) careful and economical management and organizations of the courses of study, (2) sharing of some costs by the seventh and eighth grades, classed as elementary, and (3) comparatively small number and moderate salaries of the staff. We have been very fortunate in securing the services of outstanding and capable undergraduate cadet teachers from the University of New Hampshire, who have helped in some of the most crowded classes and also with athletics and other school activities, at very slight expense to the district. State aid has increased from none in 1933 to $2,676.56 for next year, as a result of lowered valuation in Newmarket and increased expenditure for approved items for the support of elementary schools, so that better schools have been made possible at little or no increased cost to the district. If the full amount of state aid called for should be appropriated by the legislature, the share of Newmarket would be increased to $3,205.76. The Selectmen have provided for balancing an accumulated deficit in district appropriations due the School Board and have also resumed the payment of dog taxes, to which the district is entitled by law.

At present, public schools are being maintained as follows:

Teacher and Grade	Enrollment
Miss Eleanor G. Evans, Grade I	35
Miss Alice M. Desprez, Grade II	38
Miss Jemie M. Young, Grade III	24
Miss M. Arlene Doran, Grade IV	28
Miss Irene M. Doherty, Grade V	26
Miss Mattie E. Locke, Grade IV	26
Junior High School, Grades VII and VIII	81
Senior High School, Grades IX to XII	171
Mr. Austin J. McCaffrey, Headmaster
Total (Increase of 37 this year)	429

Miss Desprez and Miss Doran, new elementary teachers, are both graduates of Plymouth Normal School, with several years of experience and advanced training in university summer schools. New teachers at the High School include Miss Luella D. Hirschner, U.N.H. '40 (English and Biology), Miss Lillian M. Morin, Plymouth T. C. '40 (Commercial), and Miss Thelma M. Shallow, Keene T. C. '40 (Home Economics). The cadet teachers this year are Mr. Matthew Flaherty, U.N.H. '41, captain of the varsity football team, and Mr. Herbert E. Glines, U.N.H. '41, captain of the varsity lacrosse team, each serving at the high school one semester.

All elementary teachers are experienced, have taken advanced courses within five years, and hold permanent certificates. Classes are of reasonable size. The ability of pupils to do school work is determined by standardized tests, as well as by the pupil's record and observation by the teacher. Very wide differences in natural ability and in capacity at a given time are disclosed. These differences are met by differentiated assignments, ability groups to some extent, remedial work, and special help. The subjects designated by the State Board of Education are taught. Music is supervised by Miss Martha Walker. Besides the various other means of checking work, standard achievement tests are given in all the principal subjects, at a time of year when there is still opportunity to use their results for understanding and overcoming the difficulties of the pupils. Teachers arrive before transportation vehicles, supervise play, remain on duty in turn at noontime and after school until buses depart. The teachers are sympathetic with pupils, and assume that every child has some traits or abilities in or out of school, in which he may excel. As Confucius really did say: "Teaching should be directed to develop that in which the pupil excels, and correct the defects to which he is prone." Books and supplies are requisitioned conservatively, but when needed are seldom withheld. This group of teachers has been carefully chosen; and their work, with few exceptions, appears to have the general approval of the parents and townspeople.

The School Nurse, Miss Margaret Macdonald, gave health examinations to 609 pupils in Newmarket last year. The chief defects apparent were related to eyes, teeth, tonsils and breathing. Only about one-fifth of the conditions reported to parents appear to have been treated and corrected. Adults having the custody of children should realize the hazards to health and safety, the lowered wages, and effect on personal appearance and happiness of the neglect of such conditions, and should seek by their own means or other available resources to correct such defects when they are reported. One feature of the health work last year was the treatment given in orthopedic cases at clinics out of town under arrangements made by the Nurse.

I include with this report an account of some of the features of the work of Newmarket High School, as noted by Headmaster Austin J. McCaffrey, and also the Honor Roll for perfect attendance in all grades, which is long, as usual, and deserves commendation for those who have been so faithful and successful in their attendance.

Respectfully submitted,

CHESTER W. DOE,

Superintendent of Schools.

NEWMARKET HIGH SCHOOL

In the competitive scholarship tests given by the state in May, 1940, Newmarket High School placed second in spelling and arithmetic.

The guidance program which was introduced last year has been enlarged and improved upon, so that now there is available information which can be used for specific individual help.

The school hopes to continue to contribute toward the fund for the purchase of a sound machine. The amount is approaching one hundred dollars. This equipment becomes of increasing importance and necessity each year.

The Manual Training group has accomplished many things, including work for the school, such as a magazine rack for the library, book ends, bulletin boards, backboards for basketball, and minor repair jobs.

"The Lanprey," school yearbook, will be edited in two issues this year rather than one. The first issue will contain all school activities for the first half year, and the second will feature the Senior class.

A new course, Clerical Practice, was introduced this year in our Program of Studies. This is composed of five periods of instruction in typing and five in the fundamentals of office methods and procedures. This has been popular with the boys and is working out to an advantage.

Attempts are being made to prepare the students in the Commercial Course for local office work and shop clerical work. This program is to include special instruction in shoe shop methods in order to allow for pre-experience with this type of work. It is hoped that through this system several of the class will be selected to take over these office positions.

The library which was introduced last year, is showing improvement. New books have been added, an index system has been introduced, and magazines have been purchased and issued to the students. This has done much to enrich their academic training.

The school athletic program has been expanded. Six-man football was introduced and a two-game schedule completed. The school grounds were measured and put in condition for a regulation eighty-yard field. Equipment was purchased for two full teams, and every boy was properly outfitted. Mr. Kingsman, assisted by Mr. Flaherty, cadet teacher from the University of New Hampshire, coached the team in its first year. Next year it is planned to lengthen the schedule of games and get more equipment.

The basketball program has now been expanded so that it is probably as extensive as any in the state. The varsity boys have played a seventeen-game schedule, while the varsity girls have played eleven games. The second team group have played six games. Mr. McCormack has had a group of ninth and tenth graders who have had a schedule of eight games, while the Junior High boys have played ten games. The girls of the Junior High have had two contests. Jackets were purchased for the varsity girls to insure against colds and to equip them on a plane with the boys. The number of boys and girls under constant coaching, using the school and town facilities, who have participated in these scheduled games is over one hundred and twenty-five. When it is realized that about one hundred are not able to compete because of health or commuting from outside, it seems commendable to me that we are reaching about eighty per cent of our pupils. In this way we have done much to shift the emphasis from opportunity only for the few to the good of the majority.
